

Celebrate Your Bilingualism

Apply Now for Utah's Seal of Biliteracy

What is the Seal of Biliteracy?

Can you speak more than one language? If so, consider it a badge of honor — and consider applying to have an official Seal of Biliteracy added to your high school transcripts. The Seal of Biliteracy is a designation by the Utah State Office of Education signaling a student's demonstrated proficiency in English and a world language.

Who can apply?

Students are encouraged to apply their junior year but, all high school juniors and seniors who are proficient in English and a world language are eligible to apply for the seal starting Monday, Nov. 29. The application window closes on Jan. 21, 2022. The application is completed online at: <https://sealofbiliteracy.canyonsdistrict.org>.
